Outcomes of the Program:

Scalable start-ups have advantages and disadvantages. Judged as vulnerable types of business entities due to business failure. Along with the growth of start-up companies, job creation is increased, improving the labor market. This is why governments in emerging economies are focusing on start-ups in order to reduce poverty and unemployment.

NUMBER OF STAFF PRESENT: 25

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAM:

- Researchers or authors are usually added to scientific publications because they made a substantial contribution to the findings, or for professional courtesy.
- How inventors are listed on a patent in order to determine the legibility of the registration of the patent.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Many of researchers are recognized for their hard work by being included in the authorship of a scientific publication. However, in cases where their revelations result in unobvious, useful, and novel discoveries, researchers will seek to protect their intellectual property by registering a patent. Authorship is subjectively determined, while inventor-ship is legally designated.
